OWNS PART IN CHINESE CASES

Caminetti Clients Sub- ject to Father's Decision

Partner in Suits Not Real Attorney, He Admits

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Anthony Caminetti Jr., son of the United States commissioner of immigration, and whose name as an attorney is under investigation by federal officials who are probing local immigration conditions, admitted today that he was legally interested in at least six Chinese deportation cases which were to be or had already been before his father for decision.

Not only does Caminetti admit his connection with the deportation cases, but he bemoans the fate of his clients, declaring that his father "leans backward" and is more diligent in investigating the cases than those defended by other attorneys. Caminetti also admits that his law clerk, W. C. Tupper, whose name appears in the deportation cases, is not an attorney, but a student in the Hastings School of Law. It is Tupper whose name has been substituted for that of attorneys whose Chinese clients had lost their cases before the federal immigration official, Caminetti Sr., and who caused the cases to be reopened.

While Caminetti, the son, talked freely of the matter, the father refused to make any comment on the situation, saying the department never discusses business that comes before it.

"Something has been said about Tupper not being yet admitted to practice," young Caminetti said this morning. "He is a student in the Hastings law school, but any private citizen can appear as counsel before the immigration authorities. A man does not have to be a lawyer to appear turned down cases which have been brought to me. Naturally I have not wanted to be associated with that kind of practice because of my father's connection with the immigration service. I have handled six cases. I turned one of this business over to R. C. Ramsay. He is a young attorney and was a classmate of mine. I would be at a disadvantage as my father handling them myself, as my father leans backward when I am the attorney."

"I had a very good case before him and he held it up for three months. He even went to Philadelphia about three months ago to get a Chinese deported. But in that case where the Chinese wanted to leave the country."

"As a matter of fact, it makes little difference who the local attorney is in an immigration case, as it is necessary for him to associate himself with a lawyer at Washington, who will handle the case before the commissioner-general of immigration. That is what Ramsay did in the case with which he is connected."

Attorney Strasse, who has been associated with Ramsay and whose home is in Berkeley, when speaking of his connection with the cases, said:

"All I know about these cases is that I was the original attorney of record when they came up before the department of immigration about three months ago. The Chinese had been deported, claimed to be the sons of a native Chinese. After the order for their deportation I was approached and asked to fill out a formal substitution blank as counsel. This is not an unusual proceeding and I complied with the request. Subsequently I learned that the name of Tupper had been filled in on the substitution blank and that he was associated in the practice of law with Attorney Caminetti Sr."

The substitution of a regular practicing attorney for Tupper was necessary when an appeal was being taken. Tupper, who was not a lawyer, appeared at the Angel Island Immigration Station, San Francisco, and when the matter had to be taken to Washington the substitution was essential and Caminetti Jr., for the reasons stated, did not desire his name to be put on the record. Caminetti was admitted to practice two years ago, and his first case involved his brother, Drew Caminetti, charged with violating the Mann white slave act, whom he aided in defending. His first address to the court was a plea for the acquittal of his brother.

It was the charge that influence was being brought to bear at Washington in connection with the accusation against Drew Caminetti that led to the resignation of United States Attorney John W. McNab.

CHURCH IS NOT DEAF TO LABOR, ASSERT DIVINES

Oakland Ministers Deny Charge of Radicals That Pulpit or Pew Is Union's Foe

Oakland ministers strongly criticized today the assertions of several radical delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor in San Francisco who yesterday inveighed against the church and declared that it is opposed to the work and aims of organized labor. The statement of Delegate Thomas Van Lear that the churches should be opened up on week days for the use of the laboring men was the cause of the controversy.

From Rev. Francis J. Van Horn, pastor of the First Congregational church, this morning came the answer to that assertion is obvious," remarked Rev. Van Horn. "These very men who are causing this discussion are the ones who a few days ago voted that should such an action be taken by the churches they should be made to pay taxes. They said they would only allow us to sing hymns and say prayers on Sundays; otherwise we should be made to pay taxes. That's the answer to that assertion."

"Anyone who has studied the history of labor in this country should know the answer to the assertion that the church has done nothing for labor," he continued. "The first committee to take up the cause of the laboring men was appointed by the Congregational church many years ago. It worked with the American Federation of Labor in its efforts to settle the strike in Portland. This is only a sample of the work which the church has done for labor. What about Graham Taylor of Chicago, the man who has done so much for labor? How about the work of churches in settling serious labor strikes and disputes in Ohio and other places in the Middle West?"

Here's what Rev. William Keener, pastor of the First Baptist church, says:

"Regarding the matter of turning the church auditoriums into lodging houses, it may be said that the church's mission is first to renew within men a spirit of the love of justice, self-control and mutual respect, and not to open arms to the perils of contributing to pauperism or personality to poverty of goods. The church is in quest of a radical cure for the evil of poverty."

Rev. Albert W. Palmer, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church, said:

"Much has been done by some of the churches of this country in aid of the labor movement. The Congregational church was among the first to appoint a social service department which made an investigation of the Colorado labor troubles and submitted an important report which was in every way fair and advantageous to labor. Rev. Charles R. Brown, who was for many years pastor of the First Congregational church in Oakland, has for years been one of labor's greatest champions."

SPEAKER ON LABOR.
"In my own case, Andrew Furuseth, one of the biggest labor men of the West is to speak in my church during the coming week. He is a seaman's bill, and explain the labor of the Presbyterian church, who is a minister and who also holds a membership card in the Machinists' union. He speaks. Think these men are wrong when they say the church has not helped labor?"

The labor committee will probably report back to the convention this afternoon, in which event a big fight is expected among the leaders of the two factions. President Gompers has announced that he will not permit any religious discussion on the floor of the convention.

NATION'S "CHRISTIAN" DUTY.

"Christianity and the attitude of the church toward labor threaten to become a subject of heated points of discussion in the session of the convention as the result of yesterday's dispute in the convention session, when the two factions aligned themselves against each other."

8 Say They Signed Recall in Error

The preliminary hearing of Benjamin F. Tupper charged with willfully misstating the purpose of a petition he was circulating for the recall of Supervisor Joseph M. Kelley, which began before Police Judge Mortimer Smith this morning, was continued until tomorrow.

The prosecution, which was conducted by Assistant District Attorney Walter J. Burpee, produced eight witnesses who testified that they had signed the petition under the impression that they were protesting against the removal of the county buildings.

The judge indicated that in the absence of any testimony by the defense tomorrow, he would hold the defendant to answer to the Superior Court.

The preliminary hearing of J. F. Taggart on a like charge will be held November 23.

Bulgarian Force Sent Upon Kostovo

SALONIKI, Nov. 17.—In addition to the Bulgarian columns which turned the Serbian position at Babuna Pass, a second Bulgarian force is advancing on Kostovo from Kalkandelen.

The Bulgarians are reported to be withdrawing from the Cerz river section which is held by the French. The French report many desertions from the Bulgarian army.

Leaves Estate to Prussian Kinsmen

Relatives of the late Henry Wells, who resided in the Donners Creek, Germany, have been notified that his $100,000 estate according to his will and testament which has been filed for probate in the Superior Court.

One of the bones of contention between the opposing labor factions is a resolution now on the floor of the convention the tenor of which is that it is the "Christian" duty of the nation to help unfortunate. This is the principal point of discussion. When reported out of committee yesterday it caused a hubbub which resulted in the feeling of one delegate when he upheld the church's attitude toward labor and which was difficult to quell.

The row of yesterday's convention came when Lead Thomas Van Lear objected to the use of the words "Christian duty" in a resolution urging the establishment of free lodging houses.

"Damn your charity!" shouted Joseph Cannon of the miners. "What have you got to do with it? Make the government develop its natural resources and furnish work."

"And the committee must have overlooked this word 'Christian,'" remarked Delegate Thomas Van Lear. "This resolution says it is the Christian duty of our glorious nation to help these unfortunate people. The committee must have overlooked this 'Christian duty' section."

"Instead of the lodging houses, why don't the palatial churches open their doors? Most of the churches have nice cushion seats which are much better than a lodging house bed."

"Why not ask our Christian friends who are always so very deeply interested in labor conditions to open up on week days the churches which on Sunday are so chilly toward the workman?"

This speech met with silence.

Then First Vice-President James Duncan jumped to his feet.

"As a trades union man," he said, "I object to the flippant remarks of Brother Van Lear. They are not at all in accord with the acts of the churches. In times of trouble every church from the great cathedral to the humble Salvation Army helps labor greatly."

"Yes," he shouted, "and I might add that I know of no class of people in the nation who help the workers in—"

But he did not finish. Such a hubbub followed that Duncan took his seat.

An attempt was made to rule out the discussion on point of order, but President Gompers said it was not a matter of religion.

RESOLUTIONS REPORTED.

The Rev. Charles Steitz, delegate from the Council of Churches in America, took the question of the day to the committee on the whole matter was referred back to the resolutions committee.

Two resolutions dealing with the question of industrial unionism, similar to those which precipitated a three days' debate in Rochester three years ago, were disposed of in three hours.

In reporting the resolutions the committee recommended non-concurrence. At the conclusion of the debate, the report was adopted, 131 to 21.

A communication from W. B. Wilson, secretary of labor, urging opposition to all plans for repealing or altering the seamen's act, was read. Secretary Wilson declared the new law guarantees to American seamen some degree of the liberty enjoyed by other citizens.

Resolutions calling for rigid investigation of the Eastland disaster, the establishment of a permanent non-partisan tariff board by Congress, the adoption of a plan for a government-owned American merchant marine, and many matters of general scope, as well as many others dealing with internal affairs of the unions, were adopted without debate.

The convention today took up the report of the committee on the executive council report. Extended discussion of the report was held to adopt plans to obtain a universal eight-hour law and on immigration questions. Two days will be devoted to the report.

War Stops Dye Import, Overalls May Be Gray

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—If the European war keeps up, it is quite likely there will be no more blue jeans and toilers of the future may be garbed in overalls of pink or gray, according to the prediction of P. R. Hamburger, secretary of the National Association of Garment Workers, which began its semi-annual session here today.

"The supply of blue vegetable dye is just about exhausted," he said. "And we are unable to get more. Germany is the sole exporter of the blue dyes used here."

The enormous demand for wool for the armies and its manufactured products will cause an increase in the price of clothing in America this winter, other speakers said.

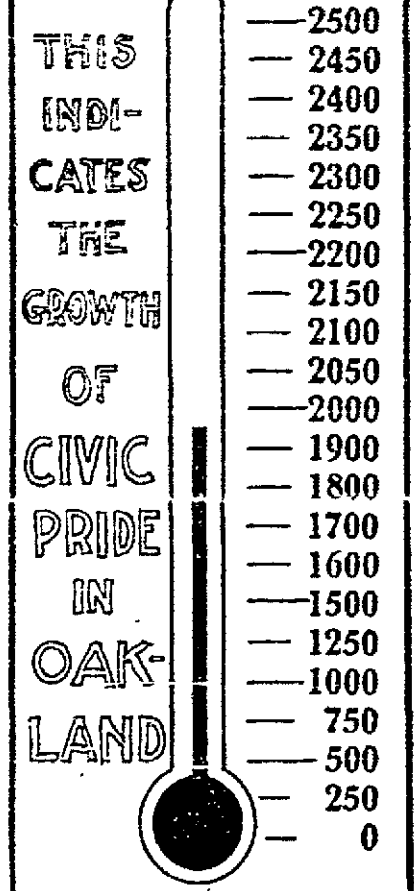

Friendly Attitude of Greek King Questioned

PETROGRAD, Nov. 17.—Analyzing the conduct of King Constantine of Greece, who yesterday arrives at the conclusion that his "friendly neutrality" is nothing more than open preparation for a future attack on the allied forces landed at Saloniki. The war correspondent of the Novoye Vremya warns the Russian people against jubilation over recent successes on the eastern front and says they are still confronted by a strong enemy whose superior technical equipment is far from being crushed.

ATHLETE TO WED BEHESS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—The engagement of Robert A. Gardner of Illinois, national amateur champion in 1909 and 1913 and holder of the intercollegiate pole vault record which he made while a student at Yale, to Miss Katherine Keep of Chicago, was announced today. Miss Keep is a daughter of Charles Keep, trustee of the Marshall Field estate. No date has been set for the wedding.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND COMMERCIAL CLUB EXPANSION MOVEMENT

GRANGE JOINS SUFFRAGE RANKS

Setting the organization squarely on record as favoring a national suffrage amendment, heretofore almost unanimously opposed by the members, the National Grange this morning concluded a lively debate on the woman's suffrage issue with the passage of a resolution favoring universal votes for women under federal law. The resolution passed by a vote of 20 to 25 after an argument that lasted through last night's session and until late today.

"Resolved," reads the resolution, "that the National Grange reaffirm its unqualified endorsement of suffrage and urge all state granges to support this position, and

"Resolved," that the National Grange endorse and support the movement to secure universal suffrage by amendment of the National Constitution."

OVERTHROW OPPOSITION.
The first paragraph is a repetition of the resolution passed every year for some time by the grange, endorsing the suffrage movements in various states. Vigorous opposition, heretofore, has greeted any attempt to endorse a national suffrage amendment. The resolution passed today is the first in the history of the grange to support a federal law on woman's votes.

Today saw the beginning of a lively three-cornered fight for the next convention, St. Louis, Washington and Syracuse having strong delegations on the floor to bid for the national session. The choosing of a convention city will be made a special order of business before the close of the convention Friday.

"PREPAREDNESS" ON TAPIS.
Resolutions on rural credits, improvement of the parcels post, and "preparedness" are also before the National Grange, awaiting a vote. The preparedness issue will be made a special order of business, a lively debate being expected, with coast states favoring armament and middle states opposing it.

Installation of the new officers will be held Friday night as the closing activity of the convention. A change was made in the national officers' list today. L. A. Sherwood, named as assistant steward, resigning, and John Morris of Colorado, being substituted. Oliver Wilson of Florida, N. Y., the present national master, was re-elected last evening, and the other officers are W. H. Vary, overseer, E. Chapman, lecturer, F. C. Bancroft, steward, and A. P. Reed, chaplain.

Dreadnaught Bid Shows Variance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—None of the bids for private shipbuilding companies for two superdreadnaughts authorized by the last Congress, submitted to the navy today, fell within the limit of $7,500,000, fixed as the maximum cost for hull and machinery of each ship. Bids submitted by the New York, Philadelphia and Mare Island navy yards, however, all fell within the limit, most of them being below $7,000,000. Three private companies submitted bids for one ship each.

Want China to Wait War's End

TOKIO, Nov. 17.—Japan is conferring with her allies to learn whether they are satisfied with the announcement of the Chinese government that the monarchy will not be restored during the present year. There is some feeling in Tokyo that the powers should reiterate in another note the desire even of the first instance, that no change of government should be made while the European war is in progress.

LINE-UP OF COUNCIL STAKE

Cooley Conferences May Divide Edwards and Mayor

"Nobody Is Bossing Me," Declares Finance Commissioner

The controversy which has arisen as to whether F. A. Cooley shall be continued in the position of city treasurer, which has been carried on in secret conferences in which Commissioner of Revenue and Finance W. H. Edwards has not been consulted, may bring about a situation in which Edwards will not be so closely aligned with Mayor John L. Davis as in the past. This is pointed out today by those who have been watching events at the city hall during the past few weeks.

Edwards, when told that Charles F. Gorman, a director in the Chamber of Commerce-Commercial Club, had been approached in regard to the position, said:

"If any appointment is to be made, Edwards will make it. I am running this department, and I intend to continue doing so. There is nobody bossing Edwards."

"At the present time I am satisfied with Mr. Cooley's work. Mr. Cooley was new to the job, and had to learn the work, just as anybody else would have to. But he is getting along all right. I have been watching his work closely, and he has been showing adaptability and a mastery of the work."

"However, if any man in my department fails to make good after being given a fair show, he'll have to go. I am not tied up to Cooley in any way."

At the time of the reorganization of the office of city treasurer last August, Edwards had a conference with Mayor Davis, George Kaufman and Roscoe D. Jones, president of the civil service board. Cooley's capacity to fill the place was discussed, and it was agreed that he should be given a fair chance to "make good."

WAS LEAGUE PRESIDENT.
Prior to his appointment as treasurer, Cooley was president of the Taxpayers' League, the organization which supported Mayor Davis in his campaign for election. Edwards wanted to name Lawrence Cummings, city treasurer, as Cummings was an old friend and a member of the Railroad Employees' Brotherhood. Cooley was captain of Company H of the Fifth Infantry and was one of the oldest captains in the guards, having been at the head of his company since 1899.

"I have not been asked to resign," said City Treasurer Cooley. "I think my work has been satisfactory. I am running this office at a considerable reduction in expense over the record of my predecessor, who had many years of experience to draw upon. The work is up to the minute all the time."

It developed today that Dr. R. M. Higgins, health officer of the city, has placed his automobile at a private garage for repairs, despite the fact that it was a private car. Commissioner Baccus and Secretary Jones of Dr. Jackson's office that there is a council resolution that all city automobile repairs must be done at the municipal garage. The garage bill will amount to about $600.

Jones and Baccus notified the owners of the garage today that the city will not be responsible for the repair bill. The trouble between Dr. Higgins, who was Mayor Davis's secretary, and members of Commissioner Jackson's department, where he is employed, has widened the breach between Mayor Davis and Dr. Jackson, it is said.

Young Triest to Start for Home Saturday

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Friends of Wolfgang G. Triest, a New York contractor, received word from London today that Triest's son, Kenneth Triest, formerly a Princeton student, will be released from the British detention camp and will start for America with his father on Saturday. Young Triest ran away from Princeton, enlisted in the British navy and was captured by the Germans. He was saved from possible execution through representation by the American state department that he was not responsible for his actions.

Plan Revision of Neutrality Laws

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Congress will be asked at its coming session to revise the federal neutrality laws. This is the plan of the state department administration to enable the department of justice to deal more effectively with offenses against the United States growing out of the war. Prosecution of such offenses under existing laws is virtually impossible.

Under the present law, if a citizen is powerless to act in conspiracy of this character, such offenses can only be prosecuted in the federal courts.

Mayor Plans to Give Girls Chance Says Jobs at City Hall Are for Unmarried

"Give the young girls a chance!" said Mayor John L. Davis today when asked why his office had asked for a list of women employees of the city, including stenographers, clerks, library employees and school teachers, segregated into classes of married and unmarried women.

"I find that there are a lot of women employed by the city who have husbands," continued the mayor. "Why should not their husbands, who are earning good salaries, support them?"

"Young girls who are on half pay in some offices where there is not much work, and who can only get enough to buy a new bonnet once in a while, would be able to qualify for these jobs and support themselves. Is it right that women with husbands who are working should be on the city payroll?"

Preston Higgins, secretary to the mayor, explained that he had discovered that there is a large number of women both in the city and county who are married. The mayor's office asked for a list from the civil service board showing all women employees in classifications of married and unmarried, with a separate column for widows and divorced. The list is now being prepared.

Secretary Frank Colburn stated that it was difficult to see how a policy such as that advocated by the mayor could be carried into effect. Civil service examinations are open to all, both married and unmarried, and if the married women pass high in the examinations they are entitled to the positions. The board last night granted an increase in salary to a married stenographer.

Mine Toll Is 85 on Hospital Ship 300 of 385 on Anglia Are Rescued

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The British hospital ship Anglia was sunk by a mine in the English channel today. Three hundred men were saved out of a total of 385.

A statement issued by the Official Press Bureau gave the news of the disaster. It is said that of the thirteen officers and 372 men on board the Anglia, 300 had been saved.

A Bonar Law, secretary for the colonies, was asked "if the House of Commons today whether the government had received information concerning the report of the sinking of the Anglia."

"I am sorry that I have no information which I can communicate to the house," he replied. "I received a letter in the day I shall communicate it."

Hayward Man Head of National Guard

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 17.—The office of assistant adjutant-general of the national guard of California, which had been vacant since the elevation of General Charles Thomas to the place made vacant by the death of the late adjutant-general Forbes, today was filled by Governor H. W. Johnson in the appointment of Major James J. Borree of Hayward. The position carries a salary of $3000 per year and the military title of Lieut. Colonel. Colonel Borree formerly was captain of Company H of the Fifth Infantry and was one of the oldest captains in the guards, having been at the head of his company since 1899.

San Francisco Vessel Reaches Norway Safely

CHRISTIANIA, Norway, Nov. 17.—The American bark Andrew Welch was towed into Christiania today by the steamer Russland. The bark, which was towed from San Francisco August 19 for Hvalstad, Sweden, and boarded by a British lieutenant and five men from a patrol boat off the Shetlands and ordered into Lerwick, had a storm carried the ship towards the Norwegian coast, where the Russland took her in tow.

The Andrew Welch is a bark of 853 tons, owned by George W. McNear of San Francisco. She carried a cargo of beans consigned to Norwegian firms.

Montenegro Tells of Repelling Foe

PARIS, Nov. 17, 1:30 a. m.—An official Montenegro report received in Paris today follows:

"The enemy continued to make violent attacks on all fronts on November 15. He was repulsed, sustaining heavy losses. A Montenegrin battalion of the Sanjak army captured an entire company of Austrian infantry, including the officers."

Russian War Vessels Off Bulgarian Coast

LONDON, Nov. 17.—A dispatch to the Vossische Zeitung from Bucharest reports that fifteen units of the Russian Black Sea fleet, including three heavy battlecruisers, have been cruising for two days off the Bulgarian coast.

FORT SILL, Okla., Nov. 17.—The first aero squad of the United States army, designed for use in the field in connection with troop operations, will fly from its temporary station at Fort Sill to its permanent home in San Antonio, Texas, tomorrow morning. Six airplanes will make the flight, the first of its kind in this country.

ANCONA IS MESSAGE CAUSE

Austria Denies Sinking Vessel Was Riddled by Submarine

Shells Were Not Hurled at Lifeboats of Liner

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—An official communication from Austria-Hungary, forwarded to Secretary Lansing today by American Ambassador Penfield, denies categorically that any shots were fired at the Italian liner Ancona after she came to a stop, or that the Austrian submarines which torpedoes her shelled her life boats, as has been charged.

Ambassador Penfield's dispatch evidently crossed Secretary Lansing's instructions of yesterday directing him to ask the Vienna foreign office for information. The full details of today's dispatch will be given out for publication later.

Monarchs of World War in Conference

PARIS, Nov. 17.—The first meeting of the joint Anglo-French war council was held here this afternoon. Those taking part were Premier Asquith, J. B. Balfour, the lord of the admiralty, David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, and Sir Edward Grey, secretary of foreign affairs of the British cabinet, while the French participants were Premier Briand, General Gallieni, minister of war, Admiral Lacaze, minister of marine, and General Joffre, the French commander in chief.

The precise object of the visit to Paris of members of the British war council, whose arrival was announced last night, has not been disclosed. It is generally assumed, however, that the presence in France of the men who are charged with the responsibility of conducting the war for Great Britain marks an important development in the policy of co-ordination among the entente powers, as announced by Premier Asquith in his recent speech before the House of Commons.

With Premier Asquith are David Lloyd George, minister of munitions, Sir Edward Grey, foreign secretary, and A. J. Balfour, first lord of the admiralty. On the assumption that they are to put into practical effect the doctrine of greater degree of co-ordination among the allies during his recent visit to London.

The British war committee as announced by Premier Asquith last week, consists, during the temporary absence of Field Marshal Kitchener, of the premier, David Lloyd George, A. J. Balfour, Andrew Bonar Law, secretary of the colonies, and Reginald McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer. In addition, it was said Foreign Secretary Grey would share in the work of the committee when foreign relations were under consideration.

Fate of Serbian Army Is Hanging in Balance

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The fate of the Serbian army may be only a matter of hours. Moments in southwest Serbia is reported to be in such a perilous position that the consular officials have departed from the city. From the various conflicting reports which have reached the public the following apparently may be deduced as facts:

The Bulgarians have taken Krusovo and are six miles west of Perlepe. Thus the southern Serbian army and its Franco-British allies are confronted with the immediate peril of an outflanking movement.

Tetovo is in the hands of the Bulgarians. The fate of the Serbians holding Babuna Pass is more obscure. One report states that the pass has been forced. It seems certain that the defenders are at least threatened so seriously that their position soon may be untenable.

SITUATION IS DARK.
With Krusovo and Babuna in the hands of the invaders the fate of Perlepe would be sealed and the road to Monastir opened.

While the military situation becomes darker from the standpoint of the entente allies, the diplomatic phase of their Near Eastern venture is somewhat more optimistic. Greece is giving some indication that she is seeking a solution of the problem which would be presented if the entente troops should take refuge in Greek territory.

It is clear that the entente powers are bringing considerable pressure to bear on Greece, not the least of which is England's detention in home ports of a fleet of Greek merchantmen. Greek shipping is making enormous profits out of the war and even a temporary check of its activities would mean a great loss.

Labor Men Will Speak at Church

JAPANESE REJOICE OVER CORONATION

Gay Throngs of People, Including Geisha Girls, Make Merry in Streets.

KIOTO, Nov. 17.—The people of the empire are feasting and rejoicing over the coronation to an extent unknown in the history of Japan. The streets of Kioto last night were filled with parades dancing and singing. Men, geisha girls and children, wearing brilliant costumes and carrying paper lanterns, beat ancient drums and gongs. The scenes resembled those witnessed during the coronations at New Orleans, Paris and Nice, except that they had an Oriental setting.

Foreigners were struck with the friendly spirit displayed by the crowds. In spite of the gaiety there were no signs of public intoxication and no disorders.

Count Okuma, the aged premier, is suffering under the strain of the long program, but pluckily continues to take his part.

British No Foes to Armenians

English Responsibility for Massacres Denied

LONDON, Nov. 17.—In the course of a discussion in the House of Commons last night of the Armenian massacres, Lord Robert Cecil, under secretary of state for foreign affairs, refuted the suggestion made, he said, in the United States that British agents had instigated and aided up the Armenians to revolt and that Great Britain therefore was responsible for the massacres.

"There was no provocation whatever," said Lord Robert. "The massacres were premeditated, with the intention on the part of their instigators, the Committee of Union and Progress, not to punish the insurgents, but to exterminate the Armenian race."

Serbs Ready to Leave Monastir Bulgar Scissors Closing Upon Babuna

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Telegraphing from Voden, half way between Monastir and Saloniki, on the 15th, the Times' correspondent says:

"I have just arrived from Monastir, which the Serbian authorities and foreign consuls are preparing to evacuate in the event of the nearer approach of the Bulgarians, who are reported to be in possession of Krushovo and within six miles of Perlepe, where the Serbians made a stout resistance for two days against superior numbers."

"The heights of Babuna still are held by the Serbians, who have inflicted enormous losses on the Bulgarians. Tetoovo is again in the hands of the Bulgarians, who, after its capture, descended on Krushovo. Babuna is threatened from the front and rear and it is improbable the Serbs can hold out there much longer. It is doubtful whether the Bulgarians intend to occupy Monastir. It seems more likely their main object is to cut the Serbian lines of communication."

Claims Conductor Roughly Handled Her

Miss Marion E. Downing, whose home is in Oakland, brought suit today in San Francisco for $5000 damages against the United Railroads, declaring that she had been subjected to a series of indignities by a conductor on November 1.

Miss Downing alleges that she was humiliated and attacked by a platform man of the Elgin street line after she had tendered him a Market street transfer at Fourth and Stockton streets. While she was sitting in the car she says the conductor demanded fare, although she had already tendered a transfer. Then, she charges, he called her a thief and a swindler, scornfully asked other passengers to take up a collection for her, and then when she refused to pay a second time and demanded to be let off at Mason street, she says she was pitched out on her rear.

Rotary Club Leader Is Luncheon Speaker

Allen D. Albert, chairman of the executive committee of the Minnesota Commercial and Civic Association and president of the International Association of Rotary clubs, will be the guest of honor tomorrow at luncheon at the Hotel Oakland given by the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary club. Albert will speak on "The Forces That Mold Cities."

Albert is famous as an authority on civic matters, and many reservations already have been made for seats at the luncheon. The affair is given as a part of the expansion campaign now being carried on by the Chamber of Commerce. Members of the organization will be welcomed by the members of each.

CREDITS COMMISSION.
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 17.—Governor Willis today appointed a commission on rural credits in Ohio. The commission is headed by Myron T. Herrick, former governor and former ambassador to France. Mr. Herrick is a recognized authority on the subject of rural credits.

BLUE-EYED BABY IS YOUNGEST HOBO Real "Beloved Vagabond" Carried Far in Arms of Tramp

SAN JOSE, Nov. 17.—The Beloved Vagabond, a blue-eyed baby, is in San Jose. He is two years of age, has the bluest blue eyes imaginable, and the greatest optimism and cheerfulness of any child of the road ever yet met with. His only worry is his very meal, and he doesn't care where that comes from. Without a doubt, this is the youngest hobo who ever "panhandled" at a bank door.

The chuckling vagabond is in custody. He was taken up by Palo Alto yesterday by Mrs. J. C. Merrim, a humane officer, who saw the happy tramp in the arms of a man who carried him tenderly, and said he was his father. The man is in the city prison here. The child is in the Florence Critchenden Home, and the authorities are trying to establish his father's identity.

The man refuses to give his name. He says that he and the child have traveled it from Portland, Ore., in the last three months. "Panhandling" the child was "taken care of" by the police. The child is at back doors of banks and stores, and the man obtained work and earned a few dollars to take the Beloved Vagabond to the exposition.

"Say, this little fellow has got more savvy than half of you grown-ups," he told the officers exultingly, in describing the child's appreciation of the exposition.

The "youngest hobo" and his father will be held until something more can be learned about them.

RECITAL PAEAN OF PROMISE

(By GENE BAKER.)
A thousand school children played and sang last night, and five thousand listeners in the galleries of the municipal auditorium rose to their feet and cheered America until the great arena surged with thrilling sound. A tremendous rolling undertone of drums, violins and cellos merging in the silver ring of horns rising to the surface until the incredible volume of it seemed only shut in by the vast night glass roof under the round white wings of light. It was like a prayer addressed to the dome of heaven stretched across the upper end of the building.

It wasn't great music that the school bands chose to play last night. But it was great feeling that dominated the crowd blackly and brightly the stars above. It was a great and unselfish spectacle looking down past the tiers of people, absorbed as one impersonal person.

It was great in its simplicity, for though children went up when Alvin E. Pope of the Exposition department of education and social economy announced that Oakland had carried off, for its musical work, one of the two grand prizes awarded American cities, his recognition was secondary to the feeling of promise for the future.

Because it seemed as if the musical soul of a community had entered into the last night, a little timidly—with wings not yet ready for great flights, yet with wings to which splendid art was added with an expanding desire for beauty. A soul embodied in the citizens of tomorrow.

IN FUTURIST OUTLINE.
Disregarding souls, the floor from which went up the offering of national anthems, spirited marches and even a few songs, arranged in a kind of hour-glass of human beings, chairs and instruments, with a circular section at either end for the singers, it might have inspired a local futurist painter. Until Director Glenn Woods, who presided for the first time, hundreds of red hair ribbons fluttered, violin bows moved experimentally, innumerable programs waved, all like the flutter of strange leaves on wind-stirred ground. Above the confused tuning of hundreds of instruments persisted the monotonous hum of thousands of voices. Then the director mounted a small pink dais, a single sound, blue and white, a single light, a single hair ribbon stopped quivering and an organized pattern of sound vibrated through the still hush.

At one end sat the elementary school chorus of 450 boys and girls from 5 to 14 years old. At the other end were 200 high school singers. Between them were the band and the elementary school bands each numbered 30 players, while the high school orchestra numbered 35 members. Sixty performers in the elementary schools orchestra and the 50 players of the community orchestra completed the hour-glass, and the entire band, the greatest school musical body that has yet been heard in the city.

The program was a little long and frankly sentimental, with many more popular old songs than such classics as Brahms' "Hungarian" Dances. The program was given by the high school band in a manner that called forth special enthusiasm.

OLD FAVORITES WIN.
But "Dixie Land" and "The Star-Spangled Banner" brought the galleries down in a storm of applause, and hundreds of eyes filled with tears when the first sweet voices of the elementary school children phrased through "Old Black Joe" until the thousands of adult voices took it up. They loved the tempo and rhythm, but they admitted the beauty of Gounod's "Gallia," that was the climax of the program, with Miss Mary Anderson's soprano solo in a manner that called forth special enthusiasm.

Sometimes, perhaps, it will be De Bussey or Strauss.

But what the school musicians carried out with them materially last night was the announcement of six gold medals—one for each band, orchestra and chorus—a medal of honor for the city's harmony department, and of course the grand prize. Cheers greeted another announcement that collaborators' gold medals had been awarded Glenn Woods and Herman Truener, and that a silver one had gone to Alfred Humphrey, instructor in the elementary schools.

But the miracle is to come.

QUICKLY STOPS HEAD COLDS AND SNUFFLES

Catarrhal Germs Cause of Most Colds—New Germicidal Air Treatment Best Remedy for These Common Ailments.

Upwards of 90 per cent of the so-called colds in the head and throat are in reality dangerous indications of the presence of acute catarrh. When you have a person sneeze or cough it's almost certain they are throwing catarrh germs into the air for some other person to breathe and it's just as certain that the person breathing these germs will soon have catarrh or a catarrhal cold. The time to make these germs harmless and drive out your catarrhal cold is the very instant you feel a desire to sneeze or cough, or start to sniffle and wipe your nose every few minutes.

The quickest and surest way to stop a head cold and drive catarrh germs out of your system is to pour a few drops of the first Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mey) into one of the Hyomei inhalant devices which comes with each large package and place the inhaler between your lips and breathe the germicidal but pleasant smelling air into your nose, throat and lungs. This air utterly destroys all catarrh germ life, quickly opens the closed air passages, makes breathing easy, clears your stuffed up head, cleans out your throat and ends your sniffing and nose blowing. There, certainly is no quicker or more satisfactory way of breaking up a cold, even after it is well started, and a few weeks' use will do away with all danger of chronic catarrh. "WE'RE WITH YOU." SAYS SACRAMENTO

The chamber of commerce membership campaign thermometer went up 104 points today at 1 o'clock. Captains of the membership campaign turned in this number of members at the noon luncheon today as the result of the third day of the campaign. This brings the membership of the chamber to approximately 1950.

Sacramento business men, 20 strong, will mobilize and return Oakland's visit on the day that you announce your membership. This is the interest we take in your campaign.

This was the declaration today of Gen. Ambrose, secretary of the Sacramento chamber of commerce, and official guest of the chamber of commerce, in a speech at the luncheon given at the chamber today. He declared that the chamber of commerce in the Hotel Oakland, which today has been added to the club roster as the result of the third day's work, has the largest membership campaign in the city.

The thermometer of the First National bank stood at 1846 at a total membership of 1950. The afternoon's new members, turned in at the luncheon, brought the thermometer to 1950. The chamber of commerce today, the club membership gain was brought up to 1,950, or to a total of 1950.

Wife Objects to Corpse in Attic

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—Declaring that her mental equilibrium was badly disturbed and her nerves were shattered by the presence in the house of corpses upon which her husband was experimenting, Mrs. Nellie Brown, wife of Dr. Robert Brown, physician and surgeon, of 3295 Mission street, filed a cross-complaint to his action for divorce this morning.

Vivisection might have its charms for her spouse, declares the wife, but the presence in the basement and attic of dead bodies caused her mental torture. She wants a portion of the $500 a month income which she declares Dr. Brown receives from his practice. In his original complaint the physician also charged cruelty.

Hand Grenade Shell Is Hard to Secure

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 17.—Agents of the French government have been trying for several days to place an order here for 3,000,000 hand-grenades, but it was said by steel men today that they have met with little success. Only the shells were wanted, as they were to be loaded in France, but manufacturers who have never made that sort of thing did not care to experiment.

More foreign agents are now in the Pittsburgh district trying to buy steel products than at any previous time.

Marguerite Clark As a Circus King

MARGUERITE CLARK.

Dainty Marguerite Clark makes her bow as a circus rider today at the Oakland Photo Theatre, when she appears in the new screen play, "Still Waters," from the pen of Edith Barnard Delano.

The story, one with a powerful punch, deals with the secluded life of a canal boatman, whose granddaughter, freighting under the restraints which have been placed about her, runs away with a circus, which visits in the neighborhood. The ringmaster proves a villain and the petite circus queen has to flee in her ragged costume down the towpath back to her canal boat home.

The picture is one of absorbing interest, not only on account of the very brilliant work done by Miss Clark, but also because the scenes are well photographed. A whole circus teased for the photoplay is brought into the picture.

On the same program which continues until Saturday evening, "The Magic Skin," Balzac's uncanny story of an artist who bargained with the devil for a few years of added life, will be presented.

PARIS, Nov. 17.—Investigation by the Italian government has disclosed that the submarine which torpedoed the steamer Fierenze was a German says the Rome correspondent of the Journal. Passengers and crew of the steamer, all of whom were saved, are said to agree that the sailors aboard the submarine wore German uniforms and also that the German colors were hoisted first, although the Austrian flag was substituted later.

Announce With Much Pleasure
the Opening of Their Department of Beautiful Oriental Rugs

ONE might well be perplexed, at first sight, at the size and variety of the collection and wonder how we could possibly gather such magnificent specimens when so few Rug importations are now coming into this country.

The best of skilled judgment was given to the selection of every piece. We realize that Oriental Rugs are intended to become a permanent part of the many homes into which they go and that they must be of genuine beauty and distinct individuality to give satisfactory enjoyment to the purchaser.

Practically all of the best known weaves are represented and many unusual sizes are included.

In patterns and color harmonies the collection is notably fine and every specimen shown has some noteworthy feature—else it would not be here.

Each Rug has been accurately appraised as to its value—there are many of medium price without being mediocre—of low price without being low grade.

This new department has been established in answer to hundreds of inquiries for Oriental Rugs from our many patrons whose homes we have furnished. The same high standard of quality which has always obtained in our Furniture and Drapery departments will be unswervingly maintained in this new section.

No Rug shall leave our floors that will not give perfect satisfaction, and to that end we shall assist with every possible means.

LIBRARY LETTER RILES COUNCILMAN

Steam Roller Noise Makes Commissioners Doubt
Double Shift.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 17.—A letter from George W. Mastick, president of the library trustees, to the city council last night, caused a sharp rebuff from Councilman H. H. Wilson, member of the finance committee. Mastick complained that two per cent had been deducted by the finance committee from the library's income. He said that he did not believe the committee had the right under the charter to deduct this amount for extra from the library's income. He said that certain prices are fixed in the purchase of books and that for this reason he does not believe they should be cut.

After investigating the alleged deductions of money in the street department, Mastick said that the finance committee has no authority to change bills passed by the library.

"I think there has all arisen from a misunderstanding," said the city attorney. "I believe the library trustees, if told of the finance committee's action, will join with them in saving this two per cent."

The Mastick letter was referred to the finance committee.

WANTS STREET DEPARTMENT BUSY.

Councilman George W. Stewart advocated before the council that the street department machinery be operated two shifts a day, instead of one. He said that the city has a great deal of this machinery and he believed that no time should be lost in using it on the streets.

"One shift can start at five o'clock in the morning and work its eight hours, and then the second shift can go on. We should lose no time in repairing our streets."

He said that he had been watching the new caterpillar engine and scarifier at work, and that it was doing a great deal of good. He said that the street department machinery could not be worked in Alameda. Complaints have been entered with the police about the noise of the machinery in the morning hours. There is not a rooster in Alameda that can make as much noise as the caterpillar engine.

Councilman Stewart's plan was a good one, but he said that they did not believe it would be feasible. Councilman Roth stated that he believed another steam roller would solve the matter, as the scarifier tears up enough street to keep two rollers busy.

MEAT CAUSE OF LAME BACK AND KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush
Kidneys if Your Back Is Aching.

Noted Authority Says Uric
Acid From Meat Irritates
the Bladder.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels: removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's uric waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take daily to keep their kidneys and bladder in perfect health and avoid serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Advertisement.

Ruddy Cheeks; Sparkling Eyes
—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known
Ohio Physician.

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects. You have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimpled, coated tongue, headache, a restless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women are now taking Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets and then just to keep in the pink of condition. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets to use as the best substitute for cod-liver-oil and the best purgative.

To Avoid Dandruff

You do not want a slow treatment when hair is falling and the dandruff germ is killing the hair roots. Delay means no hair.

Get, at any drug store, a bottle of Zemo for 25c or $1.00 for extra large size. Use as directed, for it does the work quickly. It kills the dandruff germ, nourishes the hair roots and immediately stops itching scalp. It is sure and safe, is not greasy, is easy to use and will not stain. Soaps and shampoos are harmful, as they contain alkali. The only thing to use is Zemo, for it is pure and also inexpensive.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ORGANIZE CADET BAND

ALAMEDA, Nov. 17.—Marching feet and tapping of drums are sounds no longer known in Alameda since Captain C. P. Magnos took charge of the High School Cadets. Flashing guns, rattling drums and the sound of the drill yard behind the Alameda High school, and when the companies march through the streets, the Alameda High school boys since Captain Magnos became commanding officer. It is a new regime, for before this time the military was hardly more than play, without the strict rules and stern commands of the military training.

The company, from the officers to the men in the ranks, are all enthusiastic about the military training. They are eagerly looking forward to the day when they will do their new regulation uniforms and march in the streets.

ALAMEDA WILL IMPROVE STREETS BY COLLEGE DONS

Central Avenue Will Be Paved
From One End to the Other.

Regents Remember Improvements Except of Condition of Athletes.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 17.—Immediate steps are to be taken to permanently improve the streets from Fremont Boulevard to Fourth street. The city council last night upon the motion of Councilman Hammon, passed a resolution to have the thoroughfare paved from one end to the other, thus giving Alameda a Boulevard thoroughfare from west to east. The work is to be paid for with the money raised by the special tax levy.

The city clerk was last night directed by the council to advertise bids for the work, which is to be divided into two sections. The bidders are to be asked to furnish their own specifications.

Many other streets are to be scarified and repaved, as is being done on Santa Clara avenue at the present time, and this will make these thoroughfares passable for some time to come.

It is probable that each year the council will run through the tax levy certain sums of money to permanently improve streets in various sections of the city. Within five years, it is believed, Alameda will be able to boast of several of the best thoroughfares in the country.

SALARY MEASURES UNSIGNED.

Mayor Hammon's signature to the ordinance providing for the increase in the salaries of the street clerk, the city engineer and the city attorney, which he did not believe that the council could order a salary increased from a time before the passage of the ordinance. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 10 to 2.

Upon the recommendation of the police and fire commission the council directed the clerk to advertise for bids for the motorizing of hose wagon No. 4. The commission's specifications were adopted.

The opening of Lincoln avenue, between Fourth and Fifth streets, was ordered and the city assessor, city attorney and city clerk were directed to assess the damages for the work, this to be paid for by the property-owners in the vicinity.

The council, upon the recommendation of Councilman E. J. Probst, ordered the purchase of a power lawnmower for the city park, the former not to cost more than $500 and the latter not more than $700.

Upon the motion of Councilman Hammon the city attorney was directed to proceed with the condemnation of the property south of the electric light plant, this to be of the same type used in the local police office.

BERKELEY, Nov. 17.—The "Mystery of the Missing Soap" has been troubling the athletes of the athletic department of the University of California for many days. There has been no soap in the shower rooms of the gymnasium for some time.

Nothing was thought of it at first, but as the days dragged and the perspiring athletes found themselves to the showers, they found the empty soap containers. They found the empty soap containers. They found the empty soap containers.

The poor custodians of the towels and clean articles were forced to admit that there was no soap in the showers. They found the empty soap containers. They found the empty soap containers.

Therefore, education has scored an unenviable victory over cleanliness at California and the students will have to care more for knowledge than that which is near to "cleanliness."

Doe Library Will Be Completed in Spring

BERKELEY, Nov. 17.—Bids are now being advertised to secure the structural steel and its erection for the completion of the University Library. The contract for purchase and erection of the steel will be let at one time. The steel must be on the campus in order that work may start in the spring.

The Doe addition will consist of two stories and an attic, which will be erected on the rear of the present building. The cost will be approximately $400,000, and this with the $300,000 already spent will make a total cost of $700,000. Money used in the construction will be supplied from the $1,500,000 voted the university at the last bond election.

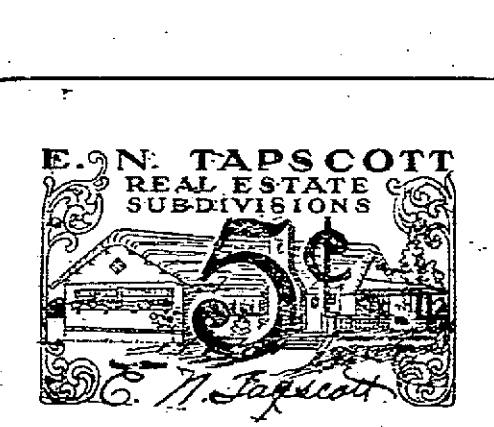

John Galen Howard, professor of architecture and supervising architect of the university, was the creator of the plans. When completed the library will be exceeded in size and equipment only by those at Harvard and Columbia.

states that the price asked by the owner is exorbitant.

The city engineer was directed to prepare plans and specifications for the improvement of the south end of Park street, Councilman Hammon urging this action.

Upon the motion of Councilman Hammon the city attorney was directed to proceed with the condemnation of the property south of the electric light plant, this to be of the same type used in the local police office.

SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I had eczema on my face and hands. It began with a red rash which itched and burned especially if water came in contact with it. I kept my hands out of water as much as possible. The more I rubbed or scratched, the more irritated it became. I did not sleep well. My face was disfigured by being red, and itched and burned intensely."

"I tried — and anything people told me about, without relief, then I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used them according to directions, and in a few months I was entirely healed." (Signed) Mrs. F. B. Bird, Lompoc, Santa Barbara Co., Cal., Jan. 20, 1915.

Century Club Women Charmed
by Program of Gypsy
Rhythms.

Arranged in the picturesque costume of the Rumanian peasant, Mrs. Winifred Carnegie-Prior, a noted violinist, gave a most charming and interesting program of gypsy music at the Century Club yesterday afternoon. The program consisted of a variety of gypsy music, including a number of the most famous of the Rumanian folk songs. Mrs. Carnegie-Prior's playing was so good that the audience was completely captivated. The program was given at the Century Club, which is a most interesting and attractive place. The club is a most interesting and attractive place, and it is a great pleasure to have such a talented musician give a program here.

MUST TINY GIRL MISS FAIR? WHEEL CHAIR WILL HELP

There is something radically wrong with the world and the general course of things, as seen through the eyes of Bonnie Brunson, who lives with her parents at 215 Arlington street. For here has come the one opportunity that she has hoped and prayed for during the last months, an opportunity to reveal to the world the results of a visit to the exhibition, and she cannot go. At least, she will be unable to miss one of the thousands of happy children who will be taken to the exposition Saturday unless that fate which looks after the welfare of all little children provides a wheel chair for her.

Bonnie Brunson is a cripple. She doesn't walk and runs around as all children should. The legs which should carry her supple young body through the disappearing days of childhood and youth are bound up in a plaster cast, that they may be of use to her when she has come on over the border line of girlhood.

In common with many thousands of other poor children on this side of the bay, Bonnie Brunson has not visited the exposition fairland. Here is her opportunity. East bay philanthropists, with the aid of the Key System, will on Saturday pay the expenses, take care of and feed all the little children who have never yet been to the Jewel City fairland for the day. And Bonnie Brunson can't go. She has not the use of her misshapen legs and has no wheel chair. The child hid her face in her hands when she learned of the plans for the entertainment of the children Saturday. She spoke to a neighbor about it, wisely, later, and an appeal has been sent out in her behalf. The child must have a wheel chair to make possible the biggest, happiest day in her dull, adventuresome life.

FUNDS STILL SHY FOR KIDS' TRIP

Money to pay the way of the poor children who will be taken to the exposition Saturday, Key Route Day, for the first time, is still shy. The city opened began to flow in faster today at theaters, stores and newspaper offices where the contributions are being received. Following the announcement of the general committee yesterday that more finances were needed.

Over $1000 more will be needed to care for the children properly, however, and as there are but two days left in which to secure this money, the general committee has appealed for more aid in the work of securing finances. It is estimated that at least $2000 will be needed to make the day a success for the children. It is expected that over 5000 children, all between the ages of 5 and 12 years, will be the guests of the day.

TRANSPORTATION FREE.
No charge is to be made for the transportation of the youngsters on the Key System direct ferry. A ten-cent-rate admission will be charged for each child. Each group of twenty children is to be under the care of a supervisor.

Members of parents' organization of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Emeryville and Richmond, from which places the children will be taken, will make all arrangements for luncheons for all who are in the crowd.

EXPERTS HEARD ON EXPLOSIVES

Technical Testimony Taken in Schmidt Dynamite Trial
in South.

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 17.—Further testimony by experts on explosives as to the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building October 1, 1915, was to be offered today by the prosecution at the trial of Matthew A. Schmidt, charged with the murder of Charles Frazier, one of the twenty victims of the disaster.

Julius Koebig, chemical and mining engineer, who was on the stand when court adjourned last night, declared it was his opinion that the blast was caused by "the highest powered commercial explosive used." This, he explained, would mean about seventy per cent or eighty per cent nitro-glycerin.

The witness testified that he found much shattered brick and other debris where "ink alle" had been in the rear of the structure and from this decided that the charge had been placed in the "alley" some distance back from the street. His location of the point of explosion was substantially the same as that of other witnesses.

Engineer Koebig testified that he was familiar with the composition and use of explosives and explained in detail the theory of the action of different grades of dynamite. The cross-examination of this witness was expected to be exhaustive and technical.

His testimony will be followed by that of other experts, among them: William Mulholland, chief engineer of the Los Angeles Water Department, who was a member of the municipal commission which examined the ruins after the explosion and rendered a report to the effect that it was caused by dynamite.

NO HOPE FOR MEN BURIED IN MINE

SEATTLE, Nov. 17.—Rescue parties, which had been laboring in vain to recover the bodies of twenty-five men buried under tons of debris in the third level of the Northwestern Improvement Company's coal mine at Ravensdale, thirty-five miles southeast of here.

The explosion in the mine yesterday killed thirty-one men and injured three others. The bodies of six, including Foreman P. J. Kane, were recovered last night, and the rescuers had hopes of reaching two more within a few hours, but the others were so far back in the wreckage-choked level, 1500 feet underground, that it was feared it would take many hours of constant digging to reach them.

AVIATION SERVICE ON TRIAL

The testimony in the court-martial trial of Lieutenant-Colonel Lewis E. Goodier, United States Army, for "unmilitary conduct" is submitted and the public will have to wait several weeks to ascertain the findings of the court and the action of the reviewing authority at Washington. Colonel Goodier, who has a fine record as an army officer, is of only passing interest to the public; he is just one of the many units in our small military machine. He has been for some time in command of the army aviation school and camp at San Diego.

There is a phase to the court-martial proceedings, however, in which every American citizen should be deeply concerned. The "accused officer" has been something of an incident at the trial; the more vital issue was the San Diego aviation camp. Its worthiness and its efficiency has been subjected to searching inquiry and the testimony of the several witnesses against Colonel Goodier disclose the fact that something is wrong at San Diego.

It appears that army officers were "qualified" and given the increased pay of aviators when they could not operate an aeroplane; one officer had only been in the air twenty-four minutes when he was rated an air-pilot; another was so ranked six months before he operated a machine. Further, it is disclosed that a deal of petty jealousies and intrigue was tolerated. A junior officer was disciplined for wearing a civilian coat in practice flying and another for smoking cigarettes. One of the "chief aviators," so the testimony shows, was in the air alone three hours in two years, most of which was "grass-cutting" exercise.

Such conditions existing at our principal aviation camp are directly related to the defense of the country in an important, a vital, degree. The aeroplane is an indispensable machine under present scientific and advanced military operations. While the armies of Europe have been demonstrating the necessity of expert aviators, in greater number than was ever thought of prior to 1914, the United States aviators at San Diego have been frittering away their time in perfunctory compliance with the regulations and have apparently set as their principal goal, in several cases at least, the getting of their name on the extra-pay sheet for aviators.

The court-martial of Colonel Goodier has not gone deep enough into the matter. There should be a searching investigation of the whole business. While thousands of patriotic civilians are contributing to the establishment of an efficient aeroplane corps to present to the national government, the government is guilty of criminal negligence if it permits a continuance of conditions partly proven and broadly hinted at in the Goodier trial.

LABOR AND THE CHURCH

The discussion of the churches in the convention of the American Federation of Labor in San Francisco yesterday afternoon took an unfortunate turn and one calculated to give expression to an attitude which we believe fails of having the endorsement of laboring men in general. One of the delegates attempted a simple statement of the aid given by churches in time of industrial depression and was hissed off the platform.

To the credit of the federation delegates it should be said that the disturbance was created by a few delegates that would not be suppressed and it cannot be taken to represent the attitude of the whole convention. The church question also was introduced in an informal way and at an unexpected moment.

At the same time it might be appropriate for the convention to make itself quite clear on the subject. The church is as much the poor man's institution as it is the rich man's. It is as valuable and beneficial to the laborer as it is to the capitalist. The church as an institution knows no favorites and its efforts and work in maintaining social and moral order is of far greater value to the workingman unable to avail himself of the devices money sometimes secures to displace religion and church service. A federation designed to promote and conserve the interest of the wage-earner is quite a different thing from a federation opposed to organized Christianity.

Learn a vast amount of California fruit could not be marketed at a profit and was allowed to rot. The new State Commission of Markets is getting into action and one of the first things it will do is to ascertain if such waste is necessary. Certainly many people in cities would be glad for such fruit at a price that would be considerably better than nothing at all. Harris Weinstock is the Market Commissioner of the new body and is shortly to study conditions in the east. What the local fruit growers would like to know is why dried peaches, for instance, sell for two cents a pound wholesale, but can't be bought retail for less than ten cents. If the new State Commission of Markets elucidates this and some other similar mysteries it will at once make a hit with horticulturists.

THE VALUE OF CO-OPERATION

The ideal Chamber of Commerce, or whatever a city's commercial organization may be named, is one that is representative of the city's business ability and intelligence, its hopes, its prospects and its accomplishments. Such an organization is one whose endorsement of and interest in a question concerning the community's development and prosperity is a reliable and sufficient guide for the people at large when they are called upon to give their individual indorsement and effort to a community project.

When the people at large interest themselves in municipal work and will in unison with the officials of the city government it may be taken as a certainty that advancement will follow. If, however, prejudices are permitted to interfere; if particular elements are more interested in forcing somebody's failure than in promoting their city's success; if personal grudges or individual dislikes are allowed to block co-operation, it is equally certain the public will suffer.

There are a few cities in the United States fortunate enough to possess an organization of the business and professional interests so big, so thorough and efficient, that its record is the record of civic achievement and future plans. New Orleans, for example, is in effect an organization of the people to make their city one of the greatest on the American continent. Even the youth of the city form a junior chamber of commerce and thus begin their training and education in community efforts early enough to take up the labors of public advancement before others lay it aside. The mighty awakening of New Orleans occurred only two or three years ago, yet the city already has inaugurated civic improvements which will cost $100,000,000 to complete. Optimism and foresight rarely has been given a more eloquent expression. Los Angeles is a more familiar instance of the value of popular co-operation. The wonderful growth of that city has been described as "confidence and advertising." Certainly Los Angeles could not have become the prosperous, prideful city it is by relying solely on its natural advantages as a business and commercial center.

Oakland possesses more telling and abundant natural advantages than either New Orleans or Los Angeles. There is now evidence that the residents of Oakland will in the future display that quality and quantity of enthusiasm and ambition which have made Los Angeles and is to make New Orleans. Unless we glimpse our future and build for our future we shall make no progress. We will remain stationary in spite of our great natural advantages.

The Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club of Oakland is designed as a clearing house for advancement. It is the channel through which co-operative efforts may be directed. It is not efficient enough because it is not as efficient as it might be. It needs to have every business and professional man, every resident who has the interests of his home city in mind, a member of it. It wants more ideas, more enthusiasm, more contributions for civic development and progress.

It should be big enough to represent Oakland's capacity, ability and intelligence in business. The desired goal can be attained only by having every interested citizen enrolled as a member. Join it!

Lieutenant-Governor John M. Eshelman, who apparently is making a political "investigation" of the Eastern States, is quoted by the Philadelphia North American as saying:

We of the far west are not afraid to lose, and we believe our eastern brethren who followed Roosevelt and the great Governor of our State four years ago will be willing to go with us even to defeat again if it is necessary to preserve the principles in which we believe.

Such an attitude as this will mean what it meant three years ago—the continuation of Democratic rule. Neither its motive nor its effect can be concealed from a noteworthy number of the voters.

The construction quartermaster at the Presidio has dampened the hopes of those endeavoring to preserve the beautiful fine arts palace. All the Presidio grounds included in the exposition site are to be cleared immediately, to become military parade grounds. This includes the fine arts palace and all the state buildings. The military department is painfully unromantic and unreachably by mere persuasion, and Congress will have to intervene if the plans of the preservation committee and the wishes of the thousands who have been impressed with the beauties of this architectural creation are to be realized.

The exposition has proven a mighty success and is to go out in a blaze of glory. It has been held as a world fair at a time when world conditions were the most unfavorable to such effort ever known to modern history; and yet in every sense it has been a success beyond any other undertaking of its kind.

Notes and Comment

Lieutenant-Governor Eshelman is in Washington and expresses for publication the opinion that "unless the Republican California committee is progressive enough to make an appeal to the voters, the Republican Party in California will be defeated at the next election." The relative merits of the two big universities in the matter of interest in the university question has remained a quiet subject.

The relative merits of the two big universities in the matter of interest in the university question has remained a quiet subject.

A woman on the Wisconsin Board of Agriculture proposes the playing of canned music in the stables at milking time to make the milking line "give down." There is a whole lot of music that might be thus utilized and that doesn't seem to be very appropriate anywhere else.

Now approaches the season when the advertising man is strenuously advising everybody to stop early and avoid the rush. And the advice has the merit of being good, even if it is not original.

Mr. Brown will hardly overlook the opportunity during the forthcoming campaign to put a tack in the President's chair in the shape of a forcible reminder of the one-term plank in the Democratic platform.

The New Haven road absorbed sixty-five trolley lines. No wonder it got sick-a-bed from indigestion. But it appears from Mr. Mellen's testimony that nobody ought to be blamed.

Saturday at the Exposition there is to be a double bill—California Day and Los Angeles Day. But of course the exuberant brethren from the south will claim it is really one and the same.

France is reported as worrying over something that is happening in Haiti. It might be supposed that France, in the present state of things at home, would be able to forget Haiti entirely.

Among the stirring things that are to happen at the Exposition on the final day will be a poem by George Sterling, entitled "The Builders." It may require a footnote. Building time is over out there. The wreckers now enter upon the scene. But then, poetry must be judged by what it means, and not by what it says.

ANOTHER SLOGAN

To the Editor of The Tribune:
Your editorial of yesterday, headed "A Slogan for Oakland," is of particular interest just now. You make some good suggestions, but you are ahead of your time. The most popular slogan today would be "Let George Do It." If you do not believe it, refer to any of the Georges who are working in the Chamber of Commerce expansion campaign. Yours truly,
A. S. LAVENSON.

OAKLAND SHOWS HOW:

As our cities become more and more aware of the responsibility incurred in bringing so many people together and in caring for their needs, they discover one opportunity after another of doing things for them that are more than the mere details of municipal housekeeping and less than actual policing. It is at times a matter of surprise that many of these matters which seem so obviously proper and necessary are so long delayed. One such thing is the decoration of school interiors with mural paintings that shall stimulate the sense of form, of color and of dramatic action of the children at their desks. There are in New York many vital problems of municipal art which demand attention. With these this society is deeply concerned, but it sees no more graceful service that can be rendered to the children of the city than the transforming of bare walls of the schools into playgrounds of fancy. Bulletin of Municipal Art Society of New York.

RUSSIAN PROGRESSIVES

A revolutionary change in party representation in the Imperial Council has been made at the elections. Sixty-three members were chosen: 41 by Zemstvo, 12 by the nobility, and the remainder by universities, the clergy and various industries. The campaign resolved itself primarily into efforts for and against the Progressive element, which gained a majority in the last Duma. The Progressives added materially to their strength. The number of Conservatives elected by the Zemstros was eleven, compared with twenty-nine previously. The Progressives won twenty-eight seats from the Zemstros, a gain of fourteen. Progressives were elected by the universities and industries. The nobility chose four members of the Centre party, which is in sympathy with the bloc.

ROOSEVELT ASSAILS WILSON'S PROGRAM

"Adroit Delay and a Make-Believe Policy," He Declares

A "shadow program," "entirely inadequate," "a policy of adroit delay and make-believe action." are some of the terms with which Colonel Roosevelt assails President Wilson's defense policy in a statement in the Metropolitan magazine. Colonel Roosevelt writes in part:

"There are two immediately vital needs of this nation: 1. That our navy shall at the earliest possible moment be made the second in the world in point of size and efficiency. 2. That our regular army shall be increased to at least a quarter of a million men, with an ample reserve of men who could be at once put in the ranks in the event of a sudden attack upon us; and provision made for many times the present number of officers; and in administration, provision made for a combination of entire efficiency with rigid economy that will begin with the abandonment of the many useless army posts and navy yards.

"Neither of these needs is in any way met by the President's proposals. I am sincerely glad that he has now reversed the attitude taken in his message to Congress a year ago, in which he advocated keeping this nation unprepared and helpless to defend its honor and vital interest against foreign foes. But I no less sincerely regret that he has not thought out the situation and is not prepared to present a real and substantial plan for defense instead of a shadow program.

"During the last three years our navy has fallen off appallingly in relative position among the nations. The Administration now proposes a plan, to be followed mainly by the next Administration, which, if heretofore lived up to, would replace the navy where it formerly was in five years' time—a plan which in reality, therefore, is merely an adroit method of avoiding substantial action in the present. This will not do.

There should be no policy of adroit delay and make-believe action. Our Government should make provisions this year which will insure the regaining of our naval place at the earliest possible moment. The work should begin on a large scale at once. This is of the first importance.

"But it is also vital to bring the army abreast of national needs. The proposed plan to create a rival National Guard of half a million is a quarter-tracked volunteer force for that is what the absurdly named 'Continental Army' would amount to. It would prove very expensive, very detrimental to the existing National Guard, and entirely useless from the standpoint of meeting the real needs of the country. It would put a business premium on the unpatriotic employer, who would not permit his men to take part in it. It would be much wiser to spend the money in increasing the size and efficiency of the National Guard.

"The proposed increase in the size of the regular army is utterly inadequate to serve any real purpose. It is one of those half-measures which are of service, if at all, only from the political standpoint. Either we need to prepare or we do not. If we do, then we should prepare adequately.

"As regards the army, first and foremost let us have the plan of the General Staff made public. Let us know the advice of the experts. Then provide a regular army of a quarter of a million men. Relatively to the nation the army would be no larger than the New York police force is relatively to the city of New York. Provide a real reserve of enlisted men. Provide as many officers, active and reserve taken together, as will enable us to officer a million and a half of men in the event of war. Meanwhile do everything possible for the National Guard, providing the necessary Federal control to make it really efficient; and provide for many training camps like that at Plattsburgh.

"Drop the undemocratic Continental volunteer army which discriminates between employer and employee, which would help the unpatriotic employer who refuses to do his patriotic duty as well as to do, and which would result merely in the establishment of an inefficient rival to the National Guard.

"Provide an adequate reserve of war material. And in making permanent the great munition plants of every kind and get them placed west of the Alleghenies, and let the Government both encourage and control them in their own interests and in the interests of the public.

"These are the needs that can be and ought to be immediately met. Ultimately, however, I believe with all my heart that we must come to a system of universal service on the Swiss or Australian model, adapted, of course, to our own needs. This is the method of true democracy. In a free republic rights should only be allowed as corollaries to duties. No man has a right to vote who shirks his obligations to the State whether in peace or war. The full citizen must do a citizen's full duty, and he can only do this full duty if he fits himself to fight for the common good of all citizens in the hour of deadly peril to the nation's life. Manhood suffrage should mean manhood service in war just as much as in peace.

"The question of expense in a war which may well be of life or death significance to the nation. Five years hence it may be altogether too late to spend any money. We will do well at this time to adopt, with a slight modification, the motto popular among our forefathers a century ago: 'millions for defense, but not a cent for either tribute or aggression.'

Reminiscences of a Veteran Sporting Editor

By MR. MULDOON.

How did they happen to become prize fighters? Even Fred Fulton, the big 235-pound man who has challenged Jess Willard, has an interesting story to tell of his beginnings.

"I grew up in the Minnesota and Wisconsin forests," says Fred in telling his life story.

"Up there we wrestled and boxed for fun and there wasn't a word of prize fighting in it."

"Then I drifted into Minneapolis and ended up as a boxer there that they matched me to fight Arthur Kelly."

"Arthur, as you know, is the man who killed Luther McCarthy with a blow of his fist and my friends reminded me of that and advised me to steer clear of him."

"But Kelly looked like anyone else to me and I ignored the thing with him. He came at me like a bull, but I gave him as good as he sent and in the sixth round I landed my right on him and put him to sleep."

"I didn't find him much harder than I did Terry Keller, the Australian boxer, but he was a real tough one. He was a real tough one."

"Yes, I have challenged Willard, and I may be the man he will meet in that New Orleans tournament."

"In the last great tournament they held in New Orleans many years ago the challenger and champion of that day, John L. Sullivan, was beaten by Jim Corbett. I may be as lucky this time as Corbett was then."

"You can't tell just what's liable to happen these days when two big men meet."

Fulton's aspirations would be laughed at but for his wonderful size and his great resemblance in build to Jim Jeffries when the latter was in his prime.

Jack Dempsey, "The Nonpareil," perhaps the greatest fighter that ever lived, who started out as a cooper over in Brooklyn, did his first sparring in boxing in Billy Madden's saloon in the Bowery in New York.

It was Madden who advised Dempsey to start out as a boxer, and Jack taking the advice went out and whipped every man who dared face him.

Jack never knew defeat until George La Blanche, "The Marne," laid him low with that pivot blow.

Jack's greatest fight and the one which tried him out most was the first battle with "The Marine" fought near Troy, N. Y., and won in thirteen rounds by the Nonpareil.

Then came his famous battle with Johnny Reagan, fought on the shore of a river, and three different times were the fighters forced to move back into the water to their knees. Reagan received so much punishment in that battle that he never entered the ring again.

Old sports will remember how Jack Fogarty and Dempsey and their friends took carriages and drove to the outskirts of the town to fight. They fought for $5000 a side and all the Philadelphia crowd bet the Dempsey people to a standstill, not thinking that Little Jack had a chance.

After forty-seven or forty-eight rounds of the toughest kind of fighting with bare knuckles, Dempsey won.

It was a close call, however, and returning from the fight his friends thought he was dying in the carriage from the punishment that Fogarty had administered to him. He was in an awful condition. Dempsey then went to New York and at Hoboken fought Dominick McCalister, and to the surprise of all, beat him in six rounds. This was the first time that a middleweight defeated a real good heavyweight. Jerry Dunn was the referee of that bout.

AL LEAN LANDS NEW SITUATION

Al Lean, former Olympic Club trainer, and more recently an indispensable adjunct to the Oakland club, has become the only chaser of police "charley horses" in the world.

No sooner did the baseball season roll on its way, than Al hid himself to police headquarters, organized a gym class amongst the patrolmen, and now conducts callisthenics every morning in the basement of the city hall.

Al's police class is over. Lean himself is massaging swollen muscles, sore arms and the usual ailments of athletes.

Chief of police Woods says Lean has made his value felt.

Knudson is said to have been registered in a San Francisco school at the time that he played with Hitchcock.

WHITE KNOCKS OUT MILBURN SAYLOR

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 17.—Charley White of Chicago, who was defeated two months ago by Milburn Saylor of Indianapolis, turned on his conqueror last night and knocked him out a minute and a half after the bout started. After being floored for a count of seven, Saylor struggled to feet, only to go down again for the full count.

The match was for twelve rounds.

Wiring a Home Not Expensive.

The lengthening nights bring forth the need for the household's light and heat. Children studying must have plenty of well shaded illumination or there is danger of eye strain. The living room must be comfortably lighted so that it has a homelike appearance in the evening.

To those without electric light this becomes a serious problem unless they realize now that a house may be wired for electricity by the modern methods. It is no longer a question of tearing up the entire house.

One room can be taken at a time. The outlet holes are cut, the wires "fished" from outlet to outlet and at the end of the day each room is left with everything in place. No trace of the work is visible except for the neat outlet, which will be covered by the fixture upon the completion of the wiring job.

It is seldom necessary to take up flooring and then only a single board, as the wires are covered with insulating tubes and pulled through the partition with the "fish" wire, which consists of a long piece of steel wire of sufficient stiffness so that it can be pushed along under a floor or down a wall.

By such means a good sized house is wired in a day or two without it being hardly apparent to those living in it that the work is going on.

Selecting the fixtures is possibly more difficult than having the wiring done. The first question to be considered is that of proper illumination. The fixtures and glassware should be selected with due regard to the number and arrangement of lamps for sufficient illumination, and at the same time a proper respect for existing furnishings in the rooms.

The next point to be considered is that of finish of the metal parts. Color values may now be carried through to expression in the wide assortment of finishes, which are the result of modern practice in electrolytic plating.

For example, suppose we have a room, in the wall coverings of which the predominant color is light green, the finish of the metal fixture may be either a verd or statuary bronze.

The glassware, which is the next important point, may be either a delicate shade of amber, or ivory with a green leaf effect.

It is interesting to know that the art of glass making has so kept pace with the development of the science of illumination that it is possible to produce the most harmonious and satisfactory combinations of light and color.

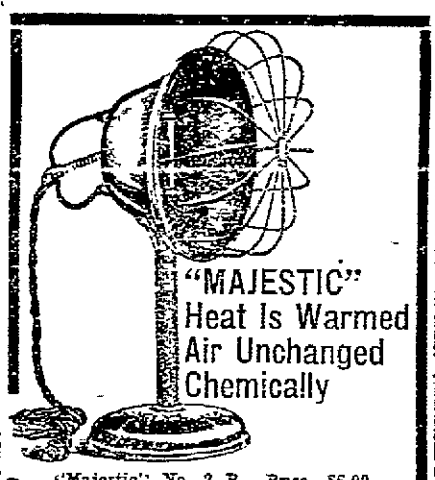

With the emphasis placed on this factor of the problem, the fixture itself becomes of less consequence so long as the designs express simplicity and the finish conforms in color with the general color scheme which is being developed.

YOU MAY KNOW CATARRH BY ITS SYMPTOMS

You Can Relieve the System From This Disagreeable Disease By Treating It Through the Blood.

Eminent specialists are agreed that Catarrh is an infection of the blood. No matter how contracted, it infects the blood, and must be treated through the blood. The most usual symptoms of Catarrh in the earlier stages are swelling and infection of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat. There is an increased flow of mucus in the nostrils and a continual dripping in the throat. The mucous membrane is irritated until it becomes raw and sore. Scabs form in the nostrils, clogging air passages and making breathing difficult. These disagreeable features, however, only mark the earlier stages of the disease. Unless the Catarrh is checked, the dripping of mucus will cause stomach and intestinal troubles. Food will not digest, but ferment and poison the system. Indigestion becomes chronic, the stomach is acid, headaches occur almost daily, the breath has a disagreeable odor. It affects the ears, and deafness may result. Hawking and spitting are continual. In fact, it is a disagreeable feature of Catarrh that the victim is not only a terrible sufferer, but the habits resulting from Catarrh are so disagreeable and unsanitary as to be obnoxious to others.

Do not trust sprays and lotions. Dismiss the idea that you can cure Catarrh by rubbing nostrils and preparing the blood of its accumulations of poisons. It helps to banish Catarrh by aiding Nature. Catarrh fills the blood with germs—it poisons the whole system, so weakens the blood that its power to ward off disease is materially lessened. The action of S. S. S. is to core up the blood, purify, strengthen, cleanse and renew it. It goes back to the first principle of health, by making the blood vigorous, healthy and clean. It is this home of strength that S. S. S. holds out for sufferers from Catarrh. Rheumatism, liver and skin diseases, the first step is to go to your druggist and secure a bottle of S. S. S. and take it according to directions. Then write to the Medical Department of the S. S. S. Co., Atlanta, Ga., for advice. Tell them your symptoms, how long you have been troubled, etc. They will send you a free trial bottle of S. S. S. and a purely vegetable remedy and cannot possibly injure in any way. It contains no mercury or habit-forming drug. It has given relief in the hands of cases during the past fifty years. Don't fail to ask for special advice if you wish it. Free advertisement.

WOMAN BRINGING RADIIUM HERE

New York Philanthropist May Let Oakland Doctors Experiment.

Oakland physicians may soon have the opportunity to experiment with the use of radium. Madame Curie, who controls the only supply in America of "thorium" radium, and has dedicated it to the free use of mankind, will visit this city shortly, and is expected to follow her usual custom of permitting any physician the use of her wonderful scientific treasure. She is now in Southern California, and is carrying with her radium valued at almost a million.

Madame Curie, the wife of a noted New York physician, obtained radium from the American government. It is not the same radium brought to the use of which is brought with such danger that it is almost forbidden, but the new American form, in which the dangerous properties have been removed. The entire supply of this form has been sent to the American government. It is the only one of its kind in this country. It is all taking treatment in Austria that the woman philanthropist became fascinated with the weird element and its possibilities, and through industrial friends, succeeded in obtaining a supply, officially stamped by the Austrian government. The preparation resembles a thick strip of porous plaster, and is highly radio-active. She has been offered fortunes for the radium, but refuses to sell, preferring instead to dedicate it to the general use of all physicians. She plans a brief visit here, and may show her radium at the Exposition.

LAST LESSONS FOR ARMY OF SCORING GIRLS

MRS. R. H. HAMMOND.

This evening the general committee in charge of the arrangements for the whist tournament, ball and vaudeville show for the benefit of St. Joseph's Home for the Deaf and Dumb, to be given in the arena of the municipal auditorium on next Tuesday evening, will hold its final meeting, at which the multitudinous details connected with the event will be arranged.

Hammond, a popular Elk, will occupy a box with Mayor and Mrs. James Ralph Jr. of San Francisco during the evening.

PRESIDENT AGAIN AIDS HILLSTROM

Governor of Utah Requested to Delay Execution and Investigate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—President Wilson today urged Governor Spry of Utah to reconsider the case of Joseph Hillstrom, a Swedish citizen, sentenced to death next Friday for murder.

The President sent to Governor Spry the following telegram: "With unaffected hesitation, but with a very earnest conviction of the importance of the case, I again venture to urge upon your excellency the justice and advisability of a thorough reconsideration of the case of Joseph Hillstrom."

Hillstrom was convicted of the murder of John O. Morrison, a grocer of Salt Lake City, and his wife, Arlene, 17 years old, at Morrison's store in the southern portion of the city, about 9 o'clock on the evening of January 10, 1914. Hillstrom staggered into a doctor's house two hours after the shooting with a large bullet wound through his left leg. He told the doctor he had been shot in a quarrel with a woman and requested that nothing be said regarding his visit or wound.

Government Is Reticent About Wilson Message

SALT LAKE, Nov. 17.—President Wilson's telegram requesting a reconsideration of the case of Joseph Hillstrom had not been received by Governor Spry at 11 o'clock this morning, and he would make no comment regarding his attitude in advance of receipt of the message.

The President's second intervention in the case caused great astonishment here, as Hillstrom's execution has been deferred fifty days already as a result of the President's first request.

Inspector Returns Without "Prisoner"

Inspector of Police Harry E. E. Green, who left Salt Lake City yesterday armed with a grand larceny warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Irene Hunter, alias Bush, alias Gillon, will return without his prisoner. When the inspector arrived in the southern city he found that Mrs. Hunter, arrested on a charge of bringing stolen goods into California, a felony, had sought release through habeas corpus proceedings instituted by her attorney.

Upon the arrival of the Oakland officer the attorney announced that his client would face trial in Nevada, rather than return to Oakland.

It is alleged by the police that Mrs. Hunter and her husband, Steve Hunter, who was recently arrested in Oakland on a larceny warrant charging him with obtaining money under false pretenses, stole an automobile in El Paso, Texas, and sold it to C. H. Welch, then in the undertaking business in Oakland.

THE HABIT OF TAKING COLD. With many people taking cold is a habit, but fortunately one that is easily broken. Take cold medicine every morning when you first get out of bed, not for cold, but a temperature of about 99° F. Also sleep with your window up. Do this and you will avoid the cold. When you do take cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of it as quickly as possible. For sale by Good Bros. Drug Stores.—Advertisement.

In Treating Tuberculosis

It should be remembered that one of the aids to relief is found in abundance of fresh air—day and night—the largest possible freedom from over-exertion and well-cooked, pure food.

There should do much toward arresting the progress of the malady, but in many cases there is need for extra help. Where Nature has to work with a weakened body her power is limited. Before she can do her most, there must be a return to normality of function.

Under such circumstances try Eohman's Alternative, which has been used with large benefit by many sufferers from tuberculosis. In numerous cases it has helped to bring about recovery. Since it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, its use is not attended with danger. Sold by The Oak Drug Co. and leading druggists. Eohman Laboratory, Philadelphia.—Advertisement.

Old Seaman Would Build New Canal

Captain James Brown, distinguished sea-captain, naval officer and the world's champion optimist, according to his own statement, is so up to build the Nicaragua canal. He says that San Francisco built a regular ditch—that his line he would have. He's written out a plan and wrote President Roosevelt three times, but they went ahead. Now he's going to build a real canal, he says. He's over 80, but that's not too old.

Captain Brown has tried out the old whaler Jeannette, which for a long time has been in the Oakland harbor. The engines have been fixed and the ship is now under way. He will first take a cargo of supplies to Australia for the British government.

On his return trip he says he will stop at Ford Island to search for the $200,000 treasure buried there by pirates according to an old story. Once he's done that he'll head for the Philippines.

Renews Suit to Secure Property

Motion for a new trial in the contest over the $20,000 estate of the late Lenora M. Harrison Hodges was filed in the superior court today by her foster son, Charles Jackson Brown Harrison, who was bequeathed practically the entire estate, but lost it in a contest made by Louis J. Hodges, widow. The jury which sat in the trial before Superior Judge Wells held that Mrs. Hodges was not competent when she drew up her will shortly before her death two years ago.

Charles Harrison asserted that attempts to obtain admissions of treason were made by the government as a result of the war.

Armenian Atrocities of Turks Described

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Rev. James P. McLaughlin, a missionary who was formerly in Turkey, addressing the Boston League's convention last night described atrocities which he said had been perpetrated upon Armenians by Turks.
